DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1,2,7,8, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by USP 1,884,013 (Losey).

Figures 4 and 5 show a brush for a cleaner wherein the first row of brushes on the left, top of the hub comprise a “first hair portion” which does not contact the floor, the brushes on the right, top, comprise a “second hair portion” which contacts the floor. The second row of brushes on the left, bottom of the hub comprise a “first hair portion” which does contact the floor, the brushes on the right, bottom of the hub comprise a “second hair portion” which does not contact the floor (see col. 2, lines 79-97).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 1744

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 9,10,12,15,16, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over applicant's disclosure of the prior art (figure 1) in view of USP 1,884,013 (Losey).

Applicant describes the prior art (figure1) as a robot cleaner comprising brush (14). It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to use the brush in the Losey patent for the advantages and benefits of "beating" the floor.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3-6,11,13,14, are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

As allowable subject matter has been indicated, applicant's reply must either comply with all formal requirements or specifically traverse each requirement not complied with. See 37 CFR 1.111(b) and MPEP § 707.07(a).

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The D'Costa et al. patent is generally related to the claimed invention.
